

Course Description:

Fashion and Apparel Design 2 is a course which builds on skills learned in the first level of Fashion and Apparel Design. Emphasis will be given to textiles and their properties, fabric and pattern selection, apparel construction with more advanced techniques, technology influences in the field of fashion and apparel design, and further education in preparation for a career in the fashion field. Upon completion of this course, the student will have acquired skills needed for enhancing their success in future fashion and apparel design education and occupations.

Unit 3: Project Construction

of Days
43

Pattern terminology including location and meaning of envelop parts, directions, symbols, and keys. Sewing techniques.

Projects: Apron, Shorts, Skirt, Makeup Bag, and Dress

Unit 4: Fabric and Textiles

of Days
8

Uses for textiles. Natural and manufactured/synthetic fibers. Fiber characteristics. Textile production (fiber>yarn>fabric>finishing). Color applications. Finish applications and their purposes.

Projects: Fiber Characteristics Lab and Tie-Dyeing Lab

Unit 5: Fashion Careers and Technology

of Days
7

Various careers related to the fashion and textile industry. Technological advances that impact the apparel industry.

Project: Career Research Project